- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
- ☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
- ☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.

III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application,

☒ claims Nos. 21-26 with respect to industrial applicability because:

☐ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.

☒ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos. 21-26 with respect to industrial applicability

2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:

☐ the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

☐ the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

III. Re Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

- 1.1 Claims 21-26 relate to subject-matter considered by this Authority to be covered by the provisions of Rule 67.1(iv) PCT. Consequently, no opinion will be formulated with respect to the industrial applicability of the subject-matter of these claims (Article 34(4)(a)(i) PCT).

V. Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

- 1.2 For the assessment of the present claims 21-26 on the question whether they are industrially applicable, no unified criteria exist in the PCT Contracting States. The patentability can also be dependent upon the formulation of the claims. The EPO, for example, does not recognize as industrially applicable the subject-matter of claims to the use of a compound in medical treatment, but may allow, however, claims to a known compound for first use in medical treatment and the use of such a compound for the manufacture of a medicament for a new medical treatment.

- 2 Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: WO 91 16885 A (ALZA CORP) 14 November 1991 (1991-11-14)
D2: WO 01 19349 A (SEN HIMADRI ;RAMPAL ASHOK (IN); RANBAXY LAB LTD (IN); RAGHUVANSHI) 22 March 2001 (2001-03-22)

- 3 NOVELTY (Art. 33(2) PCT)

- 3.1 D1 discloses a tablet comprising drugs against parkinson (carbidopa/levodopa as a combination explicitly mentioned), hydroxypropyl cellulose (HPC) of 100000 molecular weight (MW), of 70000 MW and 60000 MW (D1, page 8, last paragraph; page 9, lines 19-23; example 3). D1 takes away the novelty of claims 1,2,4,8,9,11-17,19-22.

4 INVENTIVE STEP (Art. 33(3) PCT)

- 4.1 Because of lack of novelty, claims 1,2,4,8,9,11-17,19-22 are not inventive.
- 4.2 Dependent claims 3,5-7,10,18,23-26 meet the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step, because the combination of features from said dependent claims with the features of the claims they depend on are neither disclosed nor suggested by the prior art.
